Subject: FW: 10/774,423-restriction being mailed

Hi,

I'm trying to find the appropriate place for the apparatus claims in this case (10/774,423), where the apparatus treats a substrate with both heating plates and UV irradiation source. I've had classes 34, 166 & 250 all suggested to me for claims 1-17. (Independent claim 18, which also encompasses a coating unit is classified in class 118 & would go to AU 1734 if elected. A combination/sub combination restriction between claims 1-17 & claim 18, is being made).

I would appreciate any help on the appropriate classification for claims 1-17, and if the claims are appropriate for your art unit, acknowledgment that transfer will be accepted, if the apparatus claims 1-17 are elected.

Thank you for your time,
Mimi Padgett

I just spoke with Brenda. I don't have a contact person in class 250. I see claim 1 requires to have a heating plate and a radiation unit in the chamber. the heating plates are in class 165. Claim 18 is definitely ours because of the coating unit. Class 34 has also with UV treated material in 34/275, but do not know for the UV curing apparatus in class 34. I would contact supervisors of class 34, 165 and 250.

Hi, Brenda suggested that claims 1-17 went in class 250 possibly sub 204, or class 165, but that you have more knowledge on the types of irradiation devices in these claims, i.e. what's the right class/sub & who to talk to to confirm the classification & who can accept transfer if their apparatus is elected.

Thank you,

I left you a detailed voice-mail today on this case. Let me know if you have any questions.

Brenda,
the apparatus (for heating & irradiating a coated substrate) in this case appears to be 118/620+, anyway I'm doing a restriction & mailing has been requested. Is that where you would classify the apparatus & if apparatus is elected (claims 1-18), would you accept transfer or who should I ask/send it to?
